Dance Now To Honor Commissioner Richard P. Dunn, II

-Valentine's performance to benefit Florida Breast Cancer-

MIAMI, FL (February 10, 2011) - Dance Now! Ensemble is presenting its second annual "Performance for a Cause," at the Little Haiti Cultural Center. This year's show will honor City of Miami Commissioner Richard P. Dunn, II for his untiring commitment and support of the Performing Arts in District 5.

Proceeds raised will benefit the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation, a non-profit organization, founded in 1993 by three breast cancer survivors, that partner with groups within the city's 5th district, which includes the Little Haiti community.

The foundation's mission is to end breast cancer through advocacy, education and research.

WHAT: Share the Love: 'Performance for A Cause' Honoring Commissioner Richard P. Dunn, II and benefiting the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation

WHEN: Friday, February 18th 7:30p.m - Reception 8:30p.m – Presentation & Performance

WHERE: Little Haiti Cultural Center 212-260 NE 59th Terrace Miami, FI

Dance Now! Ensemble Co-artistic director Diego Salterini announced that the concert features company favorites that shine a light on the challenges and triumphs of spirited women. The DNE Board of Directors is hosting the reception that also serves to acknowledge the service of the Honorable Richard P. Dunn, II, City of Miami Commissioner, for his service of the Little Haiti area.
